Considering a Vocation?

"Whoever lives the truth comes to the light." Your vocation is your sanctification in this life to lead you to sainthood in the next. Are you called to belong to Christ alone as a priest or through consecrated life? Talk to your priest or reach out to Fr. Matt Mason, the Vocations Director at 603-663-0196 or mmason@rcbm.org.

The Benedictine Corner - Lectio Divina II

Before getting into the actual flow of lectio divina, here are a few simple things that can make a change in the outcome of our efforts.

Ambience. If you do your lectio divina in areas associated with other activities, don't be surprised if you are assailed by distractions. Desk-workers will probably find that residual associations and memories associated with work will crowd in on our lectio when this is done at our desk...discover a location that helps us remain alert and yet is relatively free from opportunities of mind wandering.

PARISH PRAYER LIST All sick and/or medically fragile in our parish family and throughout our communities, our health care personnel, for first responders and essential workers: Sean O'Donnell, Paul Bedard, Jocelyn Ducharme, Richard Fudala, Jenna Harrington, Al Heidenreich, Cindy Kenny, Amy Lesniak, Fr. Tom McGann, Claude Morin, Jake Richards, Kitty B. Rene, Lillie Duquette, Jacob Rivera and Joanne Chase. If you would like a name placed on the prayer list or removed from the prayer list, please call the office at (603) 623-2604 or e-mail SRP@st-raphael-parish.org. Call each month to renew the listing.

(Continued from the first column) The first requirement is a degree of privacy. The Gospels tell us as much (Matthew 6:6). We are not on display, we want to avoid interruptions and have a little peace and quiet. Such a space is created by the convergence of three elements: a suitable location, a suitable time, and the cooperation of those with whom we live.

The second requirement is illumination. Whereas often works best in dimness, lectio divina obviously needs sufficient light to read the text comfortably.

Some who spend a lot of time sitting find that to read standing is a pleasant change. As with meditation, those with more agile joints may find it useful to sit on the floor. This gives a different quality to the space around us...define an area with a mat or cloth or by adding a candle or some sacred symbol or icon. (Sacred Reading: The Art of Lectio Divina by Michael Casey OCSO)

The Process of Lectio Divina

Lectio - reading/listening

The art of lectio divina begins with cultivating the ability to listen deeply, to hear “with the ear of our hearts” as St Benedict encourages us in the Prologue to the Rule.

Meditation - meditation

Once we have found a word or a passage in the Scriptures which speaks to us in a personal way, we must take it and “ruminate” on it. Through meditation we allow God’s word to become his word for us, a word that touches us and affects us at our deepest levels.

Oratio - prayer

The third step in lectio divina is oratio - prayer: prayer understood both as dialogue with God, that is, as loving conversation with the One who has invited us into his embrace; and as consecration, prayer as the priestly offering to God of parts of ourselves that we have not previously believed God wants...we allow the word that we have talked in and on which we are pondering to touch and change our deepest selves

Contemplatio - contemplation

Finally, we simply rest in the presence of the One who has used his word as a means of inviting us to accept his transforming embrace. No one who has ever been in love needs to be reminded that there are moments in loving relationships when words are unnecessary. It is the same in our relationship with God. Wordless, quiet rest in the presence of the One Who loves us has a name in the Christian tradition - contemplatio - contemplation. Once again we practice silence, letting go of our own words; this time simply enjoying the presence of God. (Accepting the Embrace of God: The Ancient Art of Lectio Divina by Fr. Luke Dysinger, OSB)
